

Cracow, 27.07.2022

Dear PHD students,

The essence of the scientific work is strictly connected with conducting various research projects. Data gathered within economics and management sciences can be analysed using various tools from both quantitative and qualitative approaches.

It is then my pleasure to invite You to join the Cracow University of Economics International Workshop for PHD Students that will be held between 4/5th and 7th of October 2022 in Cracow, Poland. The workshop is to be connected with data analysis methods in economics and management, especially:

1. Model-based clustering, which allows to recover the original model form from the data
2. Text mining that allow to analyse longer statements
3. The basics of the R-language (if needed)

The International CUE Workshop for PHS Students will also be filled with networking and join research planning.

PHD Students that will participate in the International CUE Workshop are entitled to get a stipend that covers the costs of:

1. Transportation
2. Accommodation
3. Costs of the workshop

up to 7300PLN (around 1500 Euro).

In case of any questions, please contact the project coordinator – Robert Szydło, Msc.

by phone: +48660715085

by mail: szydlor@uek.krakow.pl

I hope that You will decide to join the Workshop and enjoy both science and the city of Cracow.

Best regards,